Review

Answer the question - How does Horrible Histories choose to present Henry? Describe his personality.

A little more Reformation, a lot less monasteries.

Wanna get my hands on all their money, please

A little less pope a lot more King, sure do hope to grab their bling,

'Cos war with France with France is what will satisfy me, & that sure is pricey.

Passed a law so the Pope's been banned.

Now I'm top dog in the Church of England.

It's going swell, I ain't got the blues-

Unless you count my jousting bruise, got rid of Anne, her head to lose.

To get my kicks at 36,

I'm up to my old violent tricks,

If the Church is mine, so's this stuff,

They're about to find that I play rough!

Wanna get my hands on all their money, please.

I'll flog the buildings, sell the gold, close the libraries, those books are old;

There's nothing you can do to try and stop me, 'cos I'm King Henry.

Oh, mama!

This is convincing, I know that...

(add knowledge to show how this is believable)

What did Henry do?

Task:

Highlight any part of the interpretation that you find convincing about why Henry broke from Rome and try and find evidence (knowledge) to back this up.

How convincing is Horrible Histories' interpretation about why Henry broke away from the Roman Catholic church?

One way in which Horrible Histories is convincing is where it says... (e.g "passed a law so the Pope's been banned".)

This is convincing because I know that Henry... (Give knowledge on what Henry did when he broke away from the Roman Catholic church).

Henry did this because... (Can we explain Henry's actions? Think about power, money and love).

Therefore, Interpretation A is convincing.
